سوال 8: با توجه به معنی کلمات داده شده، گزینه صحیح را انتخاب کنید.

Souvenirs and mementos are objects bought on holidays or kept as a sign of a person, place, or event. The word souvenir comes from the French word for memory. A few years later, it took on the meaning of a sign of a special event or experience. A souvenir as a physical object can take different shapes and functions. The objects known as souvenirs range from food to materials, cultural artifacts, postcards, or various market-produced mementos. They include pottery, painting, calligraphy, rugs, carpets, etc. These objects have one thing in common. They act as marks of somebody having visited a location or an event that is not expected and thus worthy of being remembered. For example, if you travel across Iran, you will get back home with excellent handicrafts as souvenirs for your family and friends. When tourists buy Persian rugs or carpets, they take a part of Iranian art and culture to their homelands. a. True b. False

سوال 19: متن زیر را بخوانید و به سوالات پاسخ دهید

Art experts have to be very cautious when buying paintings because deception is quite common in the art world. Overpainting is just one of the many problems facing art museum directors who are responsible for buying and evaluating works of art, who also have to be on guard for the false use of famous artist's names, false copies, or even fragments of paintings sold as hole works of art. Overpainting, the most common problem, results from the fact that quite often older works of art have been extensively changed. When a painting is carefully restored or repaired according to the artists' original design, it is called "in painting", but when the repairs change the work to make it more marketable or appear to be more valuable, it is "overpainting". Modern science, however, now aids the buyers of works of art. Ultra-violet light and X-ray machines can detect these alterations. Another form of deception but one that is less frequent is putting the name of a famous artist on an inferior painting, a practice which occurred quite frequently in 1920s and 1930s when the level of art scholarship was not very high in United States and American buyers were easily fooled by European art dealers. In addition to these forms of deception copies of famous paintings are somethings sold as original works of art because some of the old masters painted a popular scene several times if it sold well or their students would copy their better works to practice style and technique. Furthermore, there are dealers who have been known to halves or quarter a painting because it is much more profitable for them to sell four small paintings than one large one.

What is the main idea of this passage?

- a-Ultra-violet light and X-ray machines can detect the alterations made in painting.
- b-Deception in the art world and its different ways ■
- c-Directors being responsible for buying works of art.
- d- Overpainting is quite common in the art world.

What is the meaning of "in painting"?

- a-To paint something new in old paintings
- b-to change a painting to be more profitable
- c-to repair a painting according to the artists' original design ■
- d- to paint a painting on a wall

In the 1920s and 1930s Americans were easily fooled by European art dealers because...

- a-they lacked enough art knowledge ■
- b-the level of dealers' job was high in the US
- c-they did not care about the paintings being genuine
- d-they were foolish

The Underlined pronoun” It” in the last paragraph refers to the painting of..... a-a copy                      b- a style                      c- a popular scene ■                      d- a technique

Helen Keller lived in Alabama in the United States. When she was two years old, she became very ill. But she did not die; she became deaf, dumb, and blind. At first, people didn't pay much attention to her. So she had to do exercises all day long. After a lot of hard work, she could speak her first sentence when she was ten years old. "I can do everything that people can do," said Helen. "I must practice more and more to make a happy life." In 1896, she was very happy because she could go to college. Soon everybody loved her, and she was not alone. In 1936, her best friend and teacher, Anne Sullivan, died. Helen wrote several books in her life: The Story of My Life in 1902, The World I Live In in 1910. Then she died in 1968 when she was eighty-eight years old.

Sleep is essential for all people. Did you know that sleep is more important than food? A person, who does not sleep, dies at a younger age than one who does not eat. let's say you sleep 12 hours later than you usually do. It will take your body about three weeks to return to normal. We spend about one – third of our lives in sleep. That's about 121 days a year! How much sleep do we require? We are all different. A baby needs 16 hours of sleep every day. Children 6 to 12 years old need an average of 10 to 12 hours of sleep. A teenager needs 9 to 10 hours, and an adult needs an average of 7 to 8 hours of sleep a night. Of course, some people need only 3 hours of sleep each night. Others need 10 hours of sleep. After age 50, the average sleep time goes down to 6.5 hours a night. We need less sleep as we get older.

How to Stay Healthy

We all want to be fit and healthy, so here are some tips to help. Get lots of exercise. Watching TV or playing computer games won't make you fit, but playing sports will. You can join a club or play with your friends in a park. If you don't like team sports, you can walk to school, go swimming, or try skating instead. Regular exercise makes you feel stronger and gives you more energy. Eat a healthy diet. Candy, chocolate, and chips are fun to eat sometimes, but it is not good to eat them every day. These foods contain too much sugar, fat, or salt. Make sure you eat vegetables, such as cabbage, with every meal, and plenty of fruit, too. Fruit and vegetables help you stay healthy and grow strong. Drink lots of water and milk. Water or natural juices are better for you than soda because soda contains lots of sugar. Eating a lot of sugar is bad for your teeth. One can of cola contains about nine teaspoons of sugar! Milk is good because it contains lots of calcium. You need calcium to help your 206 bones to grow and keep your teeth strong. Have healthy relationships with others. Recent research has shown that a good social life decreases the risk of death. Sadly, some people do not visit their relatives very often these days. They are really busy with their work and usually use technology to communicate.

سوال 32: متن زیر را بخوانید و سپس به سوالات مربوط به آن پاسخ دهید.

The modern lifestyle has had both positive and negative effects on people's lives. Modern technologies have enabled us to have easy access to information, become more creative, experience fast communication, travel easier, and have a more comfortable life. Using technology in a wrong way has created bad habits and new types of addictions. It is not strange now to call someone an Internet or mobile addict. Technology addicts are people with serious problems to control themselves to use various kinds of technology. Technology addicts do not like to socialize with people; because they prefer to be alone and spend lots of their time working with their devices. This makes them depressed and impatient. Specialists have found different ways to cure technology addicts. To avoid this type of addiction, we should spend more time with their friends and family members, do daily exercise, and limit the time of working with technologies. They also need to enjoy nature more and have regular plans to travel.

Many different languages have existed for centuries. We see a large map which has many language families. But what about a large part of the world's population that doesn't have the ability to hear? Today, there are about 36 million people with hearing problems, making up over 5% of the world's population. About 70 million deaf people use sign language as their first language or mother tongue. They use different forms of sign language to meet their needs. Sign language varies from country to country. For example, American Sign Language (invented in 1817) differs from British Sign Language. Besides, each sign language has its own grammar. You might want to imagine how deaf people use grammar. For example, when a person is asking a question about who, where, what, why, or when, their eyebrows go down. If the question is about a yes/no situation, their eyebrows go up. Generally, there are more than 200 sign languages in use around the world. In 1620, Juan Pablo de Bonet, a Spanish priest, published the first book teaching sign language to the deaf. He aimed to show that deaf people absolutely have the same rights as others to understand, share experiences, and participate in society. Sign languages help them learn and enjoy success like everyone else.

Questions:

The English deaf people may not easily understand an American deaf person. ■ True                      False

British Sign Language was invented in 1817.                      True                      False ■

There are less than 200 sign languages in use around the world.                      True                      False ■

Find a synonym for 'think of' in paragraph 3. imagine

سوال ۷۷: متن زیر را بخوانید و به سؤالات پاسخ دهید.

Both hearing and deaf individuals use some form of signs to communicate. For example, babies quickly learn to point at objects they want. Often, people utilize a system of signs to communicate with others who speak different languages. Sign languages are unique and distinct languages. Individuals who use sign language create shapes, known as signs, with their hands and arms. They also incorporate body movements into their communication. Deaf people use signs to represent letters, words, or ideas. Through sign language, individuals can effectively express their thoughts and emotions using hand movements instead of spoken words. Just as there are numerous spoken languages, there are also many different sign languages. Across the world, more than 100 sign languages exist, primarily used by deaf individuals. For instance, most deaf people in North America and several other countries communicate using American Sign Language (ASL). Hundreds of thousands of individuals use this language for communication. Similar to spoken languages, sign language enables individuals to convey a vast array of ideas and emotions. Those who use sign language can discuss actions, emotions, and abstract concepts. One fundamental difference between sign language and spoken language is that sign language has the capability to express multiple meanings simultaneously.
